

University of Phoenix
School of Advanced
Studies

Prepare your Research Prospectus

Mansureh Kebritchi, Ph.D.

EducationalTechnology@phoenix.edu

Introduction: Focus on Research Agenda

Research Topic

Select
your
Topic

- Center ready projects
- Your topic aligned with center agenda

Research Team (3-4 members)

Select
your
Team

- Methodologist
- Literature reviewer
- Expert in the content
- Good writer

Elements of Prospectus

Title

Problem Statement (One paragraph)

Purpose (One paragraph)

Research Question(s) or hypothesis

Method and Design (One paragraph)

Significance (One paragraph)

Title of Prospectus, 12 Words

Clear

Tangible

Informative

Inviting

Delimitating Construct

Problem Statement, One Paragraph

Why is this study needed?

Value of the study

Broad and specific problem

Literature support

Gap in literature

Method

Population

Purpose Statement, One Paragraph

Set the direction

Method, Why it is appropriate?

Design, Why it is appropriate?

Variables or central interest

Sample

Geographical location

Research Questions, Hypotheses

Aligned with problem, purpose, method

How will answering them solve the problem?

How will answering them achieve the purpose?

Do the method and design answer the questions?

Questions and hypotheses alignment

Method and Design, One Paragraph

General Method

- Quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods

Design

- Experimental, case study, etc.

Justification

- Why method and design are appropriate?
Examples from similar studies

Sample

- Sampling method, size

Variables

- Independent, dependent, etc.

Instrument

- Survey, interview

Data analysis

- Deductive, inductive, Anova, etc.

Significance, One Paragraph

Contribution to the field, theory or application

Literature

Society

Local and international

COR and IRB

Requirements

Tips

Timeline

Future Plan

University of Phoenix®
School of Advanced Studies

Questions?

Center for Educational and Instructional Technology
Research

EducationalTechnology@phoenix.edu