

Contributor Agreement

Dated February 1, 2016 between

(1) Debbie Ferguson (the 'Contributor') and

(2) Informa UK Limited (England no: 1072954) (in respect only of its division trading as Taylor & Francis/Routledge) of

711 Third Avenue
8th Floor
New York, NY 10017

(the 'Publishers').

The Contributor is writing a chapter entitled Policing Offenders with Special Needs, including all references, figures and illustrations (the 'Contribution') for Routledge Handbook on Offenders with Special Needs (the 'Work') edited by Kimberly D. Dodson ('the Editor').

In consideration of the mutual obligations and undertakings provided below the parties agree as follows.

- 1 The Contributor shall deliver the Contribution in Microsoft Word or another recognizably generic format such as Rich Text Formatting (RTF) and conforming to the Publishers' house style. Should the Contributor's Contribution fail to be in such a format and/or the Publishers decide having reviewed the Contribution that it is not suitable for publication, then the Publishers may decline to publish it. In any of these situations this agreement will immediately terminate and all the rights will revert to the Contributor. Furthermore, if in the sole opinion of the Publishers or their advisers the Contribution infringes any warranty contained in this Agreement or is not of the standard, character, or length that has been agreed or might reasonably be expected, then the Publishers have the right to decline to publish and to terminate this agreement, or to require the Contributor to make any revisions or alterations the Publishers or their advisers deem necessary within a reasonable period of time. The cost of any alterations and corrections made by the Contributor to the proofs of the Contribution, other than correction of the artist's, copy editor's or printer's errors, may be charged to the Contributor. Any charge arising under this Section shall be payable upon request by the Publishers.
- 2 The Contributor warrants to the Publishers that the Contribution is original to himself/herself (or has obtained permissions in accordance with the provisions of Section 6), and is neither previously published nor scheduled for publication elsewhere and that Contributor is the owner of all intellectual property rights subsisting in the Contribution, including all copyrights, design rights, trade marks and database rights ('Intellectual Property Rights'). The Contributor further warrants to the Publishers that the Contribution contains nothing obscene, libelous, blasphemous, in breach of copyright or otherwise unlawful, and hereby indemnifies the Publishers against any loss or damage in consequence of any breach or claimed breach of this warranty.
- 3 The Contributor hereby grants to the Publishers the exclusive right for the full term of copyright and any renewals/extensions, to reproduce, prepare translations of and/or distribute the Contribution (including the abstract) or any part of it themselves throughout the world in printed, electronic or other medium now known or later invented, and in turn to authorize others (including reproductive rights organizations such as the Copyright Clearance Center and the Copyright Licensing Agency to do the same. If the Contributor receives any direct requests for permission to use the Contribution, the Contributor undertakes to notify the Publishers immediately.

- 4 If the Work is to be published in the United Kingdom, the Contributor hereby asserts his/her moral right to be identified as the author.
- 5 The Contributor undertakes to read and if necessary correct the proofs of the Work, and to return the proofs promptly. Should the Contributor be unable to, or fail to, correct the proofs then the Editor may undertake this. If the Contributor fails to return the proofs within the time specified, the Publishers may consider the proofs as approved for publication.
- 6 The Contributor shall be responsible for obtaining written permission for the inclusion of any copyright material in the Contribution, whether text, illustrations or otherwise. The Contributor shall be responsible for the payment of all fees for the use of such material, and shall deliver all correspondence and other documents relating to the permissions, including any specific acknowledgements or copyright notices to be printed in the work, with the completed Contribution.
- 7 The Contribution may be included in a volume of the Contributor's own collected papers without charge and without seeking the Publishers' permission provided that 24 months shall have elapsed since the publication of the Publishers' edition of the Work and that due acknowledgement of the original publication is made. Any other use shall require the express prior written permission of the Publishers.
- 8 The Publishers will on publication send the Contributor a free copy. The Contributor shall further have the right to purchase copies of the Publishers' books on trade terms for personal use, but not for resale.
- 9 The Publishers will ensure that the Contributor's name(s) is/are always clearly associated with the Contribution, and the Publishers will not make any substantial change to the Contribution without consulting the Contributor.
- 10 Under this agreement the Publishers may assign its rights or obligations without the consent of the Contributor.
- 11 Each party to this agreement irrevocably agrees that the courts of New York shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any disputes arising out of or in connection with this agreement or its formation, and that the substantive laws of New York shall apply to any such dispute. For these purposes each party irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of the federal and state courts located in New York, New York.

We confirm our agreement to the above terms:

For the Contributor:

For the Publishers:
